

Creative Schools

+

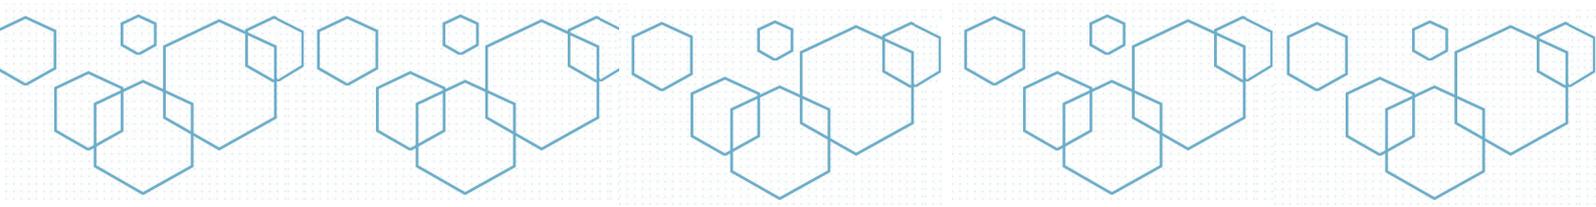

Creative Colleges

Annual Symposium

Creativity in Education Now

Monday 16 November 2020

Led by Stratford Circus Arts Centre on behalf of the East
London Cultural Education Alliance

About the Symposium

The Creative Schools and Colleges Symposium is an opportunity for educators and cultural organisations to come together and discover fresh ways to bring creativity into learning.

Now in its sixth year and attracting close to 100 cultural organisations and over 50 schools and colleges in East London annually, this year the event is free, open to all and takes place in our virtual conference hall.

This year's theme, Creativity in Education Now is dedicated to exploring urgent issues as well as providing long term solutions to support learning and promote the benefits creativity.

Attendees can choose to attend the entire day or join for the most relevant sections. All panel discussions will be shared after the day online.

Networking opportunities are available in the virtual space throughout the day although it is advisable to take breaks from the screen at appropriate moments during the day.

If you are inspired to collaborate, explore an idea, try something out or take a next step during the course of this event, please tell us through our evaluation form.

Exchange, connect, support, energise and motivate: creativity in education NOW!

Schedule for the day

9.15am – 10am

Networking and housekeeping

Join a table in our virtual conference space, visit an exhibition, check the opportunities on offer and learn more about some of the activity that has taken place over the last few months.

10am – 10.30am

Keynote speech by Professor Bill Lucas:

Creativity now, identity, resilience and future work

During this talk attendees are invited to send questions to chat and 'like' questions posed by others for the following panel discussion.

10.30am – 11.20am

Panel discussion with:

Stuart Worden, Principal of the BRIT school

Vicky Featherstone, Artistic Director, Royal Court Theatre

Jennifer Gibbs, Ofsted, Lead for Art and Design

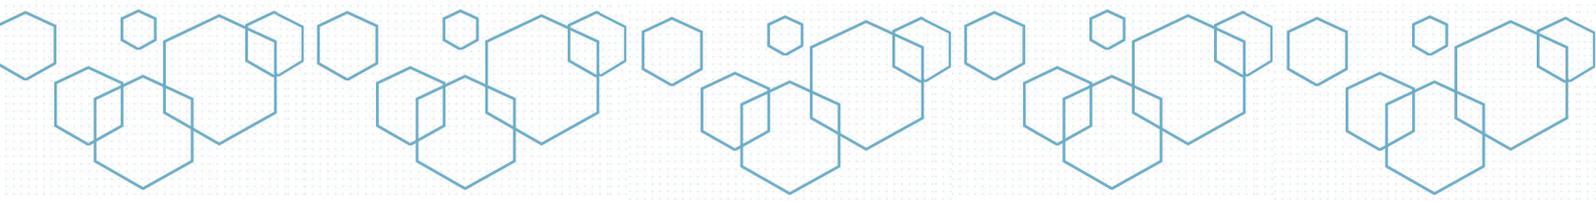

Dr Rachel Payne, CEO NSEAD

Professor Bill Lucas

Chair: Robert West Director of the National Skills Academy,
Creative and Cultural skills

11.20am – 11.45am

Networking

11.45am – 12.45pm

Break out panel discussions

Choose to visit one of three simultaneous panel discussions on key topics including:

Discussion 1: Creativity, Representation and Identity

Discussion 2: Creativity and Resilience and Inclusion

Discussion 3: Creativity and the Future of Work

12.45pm – 1 pm

Panel discussion sum up

All three panel chairs will sum up the main points from the discussions

1 pm – 2 pm Lunch

2pm – 3.30pm Sector specific workshops

Come with a colleague and exchange insights with expert facilitators and those in other schools and colleges to connect, learn, exchange and takeaway ideas to use in the classroom

- Things we can do in respect of creativity now
- What works well under current conditions
- Tips and ideas for the classroom – what have we learned?

3.30pm – 3.45pm

Sum up of main points by sector specific workshop facilitators

3.45pm – 4pm Networking/Break

4pm – 4.15pm Sum up of the day and next steps

4.15pm – 5pm Networking and evaluation

Credits

Event design and organisation: Alfred Cardona, Creative Schools and Colleges Manager, Head of Curriculum, Centre for Creative Industries, Morley College.

Communications: Becca Pratt with support from Stratford Circus Arts Centre

Virtual Stage Management: Louise Stokes for Digileaders
Creative Schools is led by Stratford Circus Arts Centre for East London Cultural Education Alliance

Funded by Esmée Fairbairn Foundation and Foundation for Future London.

Current Cultural Partners

Current Cultural Partners

OTHERWISE EDUCATION

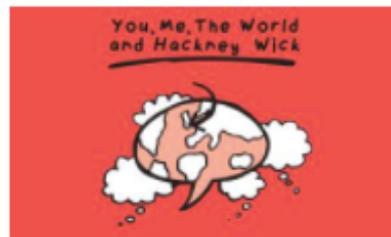

poet in the city

SCHOOL of NOISE

ENYAMCGREGOR

THEATRE CENTRE

